

Llewelyn Hughes

llewelyn.hughes@alum.mit.edu

<http://www.llewelynhughes.net>

Summary:

Academic and administrator with deep experience and networks in the education, policy and corporate sectors spanning Australia, the United States, Europe, and the Asia-Pacific, after living and working in the United States (Boston, Washington DC), Japan (Tokyo), and Australia (Canberra, Melbourne) for more than 20 years. Research interests focus on natural resources, climate change, and business-government relations.

Employment:

Australian National University (2014-)

Associate Dean for Research, College of Asia and the Pacific, ANU

Administration

- Executive Committee, Energy Change Institute, ANU

Academic

- Associate Professor, Crawford School of Public Policy
- Editorial Board, Studies in Comparative Energy and Environmental Politics, Oxford University Press
- Associate Editor, Japanese Journal of Political Science

Education

- Convener, Environmental Policy Specialization, Masters of Public Policy, Crawford School of Public Policy
- Convener, Masters of Public Policy, ANU & University of Tokyo

George Washington University (2009-14)

Elliott School of International Affairs and Department of Political Science

- Steering Committee, International Trade and Investment (ITIP) Program, Elliott School of International Affairs, George Washington University
- Science and Technology and Energy Policy (STEP) Dissertation Prize Committee, American Political Science Association

Harvard University (2008-2009)

Research Fellow, Consortium for Energy Policy Research, Mossavar-Rahmani Center for Business and Government, John F. Kennedy School of Government

Advisory relationships:

GR Japan, Public and Government Relations Advisors

Advising companies operating the energy and environmental sectors on government and regulatory affairs in the Japanese market. Clients span from multinationals to startups across solar photovoltaics, wind power, biomass, energy demand management, chemicals, and natural resources. <http://grjapan.com/>

Affiliations:

- 2017 - Research Fellow, Initiative for Sustainable Energy Policy, Johns Hopkins University SAIS, Washington DC
- 2017 - Visiting Fellow, Climate College, School of Earth Sciences, Faculty of Science, University of Melbourne
- 2017 - Member, Australia-Germany Energy Transition Hub (<http://energy-transition-hub.org/>)
- 2015 - Fellow, Centre for Climate Economics and Policy, Australian National University

Research:

Book:

Llewelyn Hughes, Globalizing Oil: Firms and Oil Market Governance in France, Japan, and the United States (Cambridge, UK: Cambridge University Press - Business and Public Policy Series, 2014), 265pp (paperback: November 2016).

- Reviews: Christina Faegri Global Governance Vol. 20, No. 4 (2014), p. 629-630; John R. Heilbrunn, Perspectives on Politics Vol.13, No. 1 (2015), pp. 230-231; John Mitchell, International Affairs Vol. 91, No. 1, (2015), pp. 183-184; Paul Stevens, The Energy Journal Vol. 36, No. 3 (2015) p. 212-213; Anastasia Ufimtseva, ACUNS, <http://acuns.org/review-of-globalizing-oil-firms-and-oil-market-governance-in-france-japan-and-the-united-states/>.
- More than 50 peer review articles, book chapters, and policy contributions in leading outlets.
- Seasoned speaker to academic, policy, and corporate audiences across the Asia-Pacific, the United States, and Europe.

Education:

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Ph.D. in Political Science

Winner, Lucian Pye Prize for Best Dissertation produced in the Department of Political Science

University of Tokyo, Japan

Master of Laws (Political Science).

Master's Thesis: "Kokunaishinbun to Kaigaishinbun no Hikakuron" (80,000 characters)

University of Melbourne, Australia

Bachelor of Arts

Certificates and training:

Japanese Language Conference Interpreting Course Level 1 (simultaneous/consecutive), Interschool Interpreting and Translation School, Tokyo, Japan

Mandarin Language Intensive Course, Beijing Normal University, Beijing, PRC

Citizenship:

United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand